Chairman's Introduction

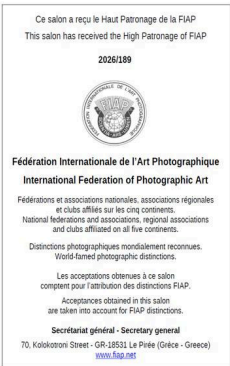

Isobel Lindsay - Scotland

Welcome to the 162nd Edinburgh International Photographic Exhibition. Photographers who achieve an acceptance at Edinburgh can be proud as gaining one is difficult with our acceptance rate this year of only 14%. We display all 193 acceptances in our gallery during August 2026, but, if you cannot come to Edinburgh I hope this catalogue gives you an idea of the quality and range. My thanks to all entrants for their hard work in creating the prints. I know that if you didn't get accepted you will be disappointed but let me encourage you to keep trying. Not being successful this year does not mean you won't be successful next year. We look forward to your entries in 2027 and you can also enter our Digital Exhibition in August 2026. Many thanks also to our experienced selectors for their adjudication and selection of this year's exhibition and to our sponsors Hahnemühle UK for their support throughout the exhibition. Finally, my thanks to the members of Edinburgh Photographic Society who make it all possible.

The Selectors

The Exhibition was selected by three experienced judges. They worked together over two days to judge the Open Monochrome and Open Colour sections.

Selectors' Comments - from Rikki O'Neill

Sue, Marcus and myself were delighted and honoured to be asked as selectors for this year's prestigious Edinburgh Print International. Edinburgh Photographic Society has delivered an international salon of excellent quality in every respect. It portrays content of a high artistic and technical standard, diverse and meaningful.

The organisation was carried out with flawless execution with clear procedures by a dedicated team led by Isobel and Eion. Throughout, the hospitality was warm, attentive with well-considered support and friendliness. This made the event both productive and enjoyable.

Edinburgh Photographic Society and its members operate with passion, integrity and commitment to advancing photography. This event stands as an excellent example for other photographic societies.

Sue O'Connell FIPF DPAGB EFIAP/d3 MPSA ABPE - England

Sue has been a keen traveller all her life - the further and more remote the better. For her, photography is an essential component of travel, a reason to look more keenly and engage more deeply, as well as a means of revisiting and sharing key experiences. She enjoys a wide range of genres including landscapes, wildlife and documentary, but above all loves photographing people.

Over the years Sue has received many awards in salons and also competitions including National Geographic Traveller, World Food Photography Awards and Travel Photographer of the Year (category Winner 2025).

The print is hugely important for her and she is proud to have twice gained medals in The London Salon, as well as receiving a Hahnemuhle prize in PAGB Masters of Print. Her work has been included in exhibitions at (among others) the Royal Geographical Society, the Mall Galleries and the Museum of the Home, London. She is a Fotospeed Ambassador and a Member of the Board, PSA Pictorial Print Division. She is a member of the WPF Associateship panel, has been a selector for the prestigious PAGB Masters of Print, and is Chair of the WCPF Judging Panel.

Markus Lauboeck - Austria

Markus is from Austria and this is his third visit to Edinburgh to judge the print salon. As well as 2026 he previously judged in 2001 and 2017. Although his photographic path has had a lot of acceptances and prizes he decided from the beginning not to apply for any distinctions. However, as well as being a distinguished judge he was appointed "Honorary President of Xiangxi Province Association of Digital Imaging".

162nd Edinburgh International Photography Exhibition 2026

The Selectors

Rikki O'Neill FRPS FIPF MPAGB - Scotland

Rikki is a self taught artist, beginning his career with DC Thomson Ltd. He has produced over the years hundreds of cartoons for national newspapers and magazines and also for greeting cards. He is a creative photographer and artist by profession. Over the past 40 years he has combined his artistic and photographic skills to produce award-winning images in monochrome and colour from film to the present digital techniques.

His photography is about images that try to evoke emotion with the viewer. His personal approach to photography is to create a "painterly, illustrative" quality and he has produced many unique images which have won acclaim nationally and internationally. He has also exhibited in major group exhibitions and held 10 one man exhibitions.

He is a member of the London Salon, a Fellow of the Irish Photographic Federation and a Master of the Photographic Alliance of Great Britain.

FIAP Special Light Blue Pin for Best Author

Open Colour - Fallen Chair
FIAP Gold Medal

I'm absolutely thrilled to receive the Awards and Edinburgh's FIAP Special Light Blue Pin for 2026. My thanks go to the judges and all involved at Edinburgh Photographic Society.

I've been involved with photography for many years, it has given me a great sense of community. I've gone from being a beginner to running my own club and national exhibition.

Photography has allowed me to share my passion by travelling the country giving talks and workshops. Meeting like minded people along the way. I've judged in the UK and Ireland. Photography gives me the opportunity to explore as many different subjects and events as possible.

Adding a creative touch to those images adds individuality and emotion. The final step in any image is choosing the right paper to enhance the digital image on the screen. There's nothing like holding print in your hand that can be shared with others.

Some images from the judging days

The Edinburgh International Photography Exhibition has been run by the Edinburgh Photographic Society since its inception in 1861. The salon is run by members of the society and all activities take place in our premises in Edinburgh. Judging takes place over two days using the 'Edinburgh Method'. These are some images from 2026.
